

Viking Veterinary Hospital Achieves Veterinary Emergency and Critical Care Society (VECCS) Facility Certification

July 17, 2024 –Viking Veterinary Hospital proudly announces its recent accreditation as a VECCS Certified Facility, marking a significant milestone in enhancing patient care standards.

The Veterinary Emergency & Critical Care Society \(VECCS\) is a global professional organization comprising of veterinarians, veterinary technicians, and practice managers committed to advancing knowledge and upholding superior standards in veterinary emergency and critical care.

VECCS offers a facility certification program to encourage facilities to provide exceptional emergency and critical patient care. The purpose of this certification is to recognize those hospitals that meet and exceed the minimum standards and guidelines published by VECCS. VECCS does this in the hopes of raising the standard of care while also increasing public and professional awareness in veterinary emergency and critical patient care.

Viking Veterinary Hospital is proud to offer 24/7 Emergency and Critical Care, Orthopedic Surgery, and full-service General Practice—including specialized care for exotic pets. We are one of the few hospitals in the region with an in-house Pet Blood Bank. Recognized as the 2025 Idaho's Best Regional Veterinarian, we remain committed to modern medicine, compassionate care, and being a trusted partner for pets and their people.

For comprehensive details on the certification criteria, please visit <https://veccs.org/facility-certification/>

For media inquiries or further information, please contact (208) 546-0979 or info@vvhidaho.com